Note: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• We would recommend that you wait until you start getting green days after your fertile window to send your device into us. That way, you and your fertility computer both know that you are infertile until at least the next menstruation and the missed data while your device is in transport, should not affect future fertility calculations.</li><li>• Please enclose the device securely in its original packaging (if available) within a bubble wrapped box or similarly secure packaging, and your name somewhere on the courier packaging. Please include all the parts for your device.</li><li>• For all enquiries and questions phone or email and our team will be able to help if you are unsure of any detail</li><li>• Please ensure to read all instructions</li><li>• Download form and fill in if you have established that it needs to be returned to be serviced.</li></ul>
